ECHOES FROM THE LODGE ROOMS

Elks Planning Field Day at Plant Field—Knights of Columbus Will Hold Annual Convention—Moose Will Have Clambake and Outing.

ELKS.
The day will be observed at Plant field, New London, Friday, Aug. 25, in a manner calculated to pay fitting tribute to Commodore Morton P. Plant, who not only has made baseball possible in that city, but also contributed in many other ways to the welfare of New London. In the event of rain or postponement of the game between New London and Hartford for other reasons, the festivities will be held the following day.
The program of the event, which has just been completed, is as follows: Luncheon will be served at the Elks' home in Washington street from 12 to 1:30 p. m. After that time, C. Geary will declare the chowder lid off at the noon hour and the frolic on. A concert will follow and this, in the words of Edgar Allan Poe, "will be given by a 'conglomerate, heterogeneous mass of musicians gathered from all parts of the world, who will discourse startling strains of symphonious melody from start to finish."
The Elks' special trolley will start rolling toward Plant field, from the front of the home at 2 o'clock sharp. The Elks herd will be assembled at 2:30 at the Montauk avenue entrance to the grounds. The National Elks association, headed by Brother Esquire Mayes, will march triumphantly on the field to the tune of "Hail to the Chief." Several Elks of various wide prominence have accepted invitations to attend the celebration. Among them are former Gov. John K. Tener of Pennsylvania, president of the National league and past grand exalted ruler; Past Grand Exalted Ruler August Hermann, owner of the Cincinnati club and president of the National baseball commission; Past Grand Exalted Ruler Edward Leach of New York and Lieut. Gov. Clifford B. Wilson of Bridgeport.
The committee of arrangements consists of Exalted Ruler John C. Geary, Thomas E. Donohue, chairman; George S. Fisher, secretary; James N. Stover, treasurer; Henry C. Chappell, W. J. Clarke, Andrew Maher, John M. Hallon, Timothy O'Neill and John C. Turner.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.
The Supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus will be held in Davenport, Iowa, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 1, 2 and 3.
This K. of C. recently appropriated $25,000 for the needs of United States soldiers enlisted in our cause with Mexico. The soldiers enroute to the border are quite anxious to receive a prelude of the attentions and of the practical kindness and courtesy shown all soldiers regardless of nationality and creed by the Knights of Columbus in every city through which they passed.

This coming convention of the Knights of Columbus will without doubt be one of the most largely attended, and one of the most important ever held.
The apostolic delegate, Rev. John Bonzano, will be a guest of honor. Invitations to all the cardinals, archbishops and bishops in the land have been sent out. Right Rev. James Davis, bishop of Davenport, and thus far the acceptance have been gratifying. Most Rev. John Ireland, D. D. of St. Paul, one of the leading Catholic prelates of the United States, has stated that he will be present if it is possible for him to make the trip at that time.
Among the archbishops and bishops who have signified their intention of attending the convention are Most Rev. J. J. Kane, D. D., archbishop of Dubuque, who will preach the sermon at the solemn pontifical mass which will officially open the convention on the morning of Tuesday, August 1; Right Rev. Austin Dowling, bishop of Des Moines; Right Rev. J. Henry Tichen, bishop of Lincoln, Neb.; Right Rev. Edward D. Kelly, bishop of Detroit; Right Rev. James O'Reilly, bishop of Fargo, N. D.; Right Rev. Patrick R. Heron, bishop of Winona, Minn.; Right Rev. John J. McElroy, bishop of Rockford, Ill.; Right Rev. John Ward, bishop of Leavenworth, Kan.; Right Rev. John J. Lawler, bishop of Lead, S. D.; Right Rev. J. J. Hennessy, bishop of Wichita, Kan.; and Right Rev. James Albert Duffy, bishop of Kearney, Neb.

All of the archbishops and bishops will be present in the sanctuary at Sacred Heart Cathedral, Davenport, at the solemn pontifical mass of which the papal legate will be the celebrant, and they will be honored guests at various functions that will feature the convention. The amplification of the fourth decree, July 22, 1909, will be followed by a banquet for 1,200 at which the apostolic delegate will be one of the speakers on the post-prandial program. The convention proper

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes scrofula, sores, boils and other eruptions, because it drives out of the blood the humors that cause them. Eruptions cannot be successfully treated with external applications, because these cannot purify the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. Insist on having Hood's. Get it now.

Streaks of Lean Required
Uncle Sam's specifications for the curing of bacon say the slabs must contain less than ten pounds of fat. They average from sixteen to eighteen pounds. The slabs must contain a good streak of lean in each place, and be not more than three inches thick at the shoulder. They must be allowed to dry out at least one day before being submitted to smoking with hickory wood for a period of eight days or more. The excess salt must be brushed from the slabs instead of being washed off with water.

The government prescribes the exact manner in which the pieces shall be wrapped. Two sheets of heavy paraffin paper and one of heavy absorbent are required. Some of the bacon has an extra wrapping of sheeting sewed on. Others are packed for shipment in hermetically sealed cans, 12 pounds to the can.
Cans Chosen at Random.
Cans of corned beef, hash and of roast beef were picked here and there from among the finished products and opened for inspection. Some of the cans had been packed only an hour, others had been packed for days. If a piece of gristle was found or if too much fat had reached the can it was noted by the eagle eyed inspectors for the government.
"Better ginger those girls of yours up," said Col. Knisker, "some of them are getting a little bit careless."
Cans of the "commercial" beef and cans of that prepared for the European armies were opened and compared with those of the government. In each instance the government product graded somewhat higher in looks and in the care with which the meats had been selected.

British Rules Less Strict.
A British inspector was on the ground looking after the supplies for his armies.
The British specifications do not call for as careful preparation or grade as does those of the American army. Especially is this true in the matter of bacon. Down in the great cooling cellars the slabs of bacon to be cured were being salted and corried in great piles like cord wood.

Corned beef, according to the specifications, must be packed in two pound cans, the meat to be cut from brisket, chuck and plate. The quantity of each is prescribed. The brisket furnishes the necessary fat, of which not too much is permitted. No flank pieces are used. The cuts must be made from young cattle in good condition. Not more than 23 1-3 per cent of chuck meat may be used, the other two cuts are in equal proportions. Skinny and connective tissue and all blood clots must be removed. The cans must not contain more than one ounce of clear jelly made from soup stock and bones and must not show excessive liquid when opened for inspection. Every can is thoroughly washed and wiped dry before being packed.

Subject to Inspection Always.
The roast beef is prepared from the same grade of fresh meats. The meat is subject to inspection on the carcass and at any other time the inspectors may desire. The beef is first soaked in water to remove blood clots and is parboiled a few minutes to remove excess of water. It is then placed in cans and the cooking is completed after being sealed.
The hash requires an equal quantity of meat and vegetables, properly seasoned, and is as tasty a dish as or be served anywhere. Every bit of the gristle, bone or objectional fat is cut away by the "trimmers."

Each can is stamped so that it can be told at a glance when it was packed and by whom. The government saves out several cans of each batch prepared, so that in case criticism arises they will have proof at hand to determine who is at fault.
